

The Emergency Daily Carry is a composite tool set intended to supply a minimum but effective solution to such common needs as fire, cutting, light, signaling, defense, food, money; the list goes on. It is limited only by your imagination and somewhat by space.

The set shown here is a thoroughly workable and effective solution and you should plan on doing this as a minimum. Experience or changing circumstances or priorities may alter this but the abilities and skills related to these items must be covered, either here or in another way and proficiency will need to be demonstrated with your own equipment to someone in CPG to prove it. The buddy system is highly recommended in study and practical application drills.

Each of the items may have several names but we chose a common one which will yield many choices when used to search on the internet. Where possible, consider buying from one source to save on shipping. For example, everything here is available on Amazon.

This is a small EDC. If you carry a purse, courier bag or briefcase, there are a number of supplementary items to consider adding. Many items will be included in other kits (Get Home Kit, Bugout Bag, Car Bag, etc) so consider purchasing more than one to save on shipping and time. RS
